Cheat Codes AND

These codes require you to connect a physical keyboard for your Android device in order for them to work.

Many of these cheats are similar to the original releases of San Andreas, but some cheats were accidentally re-enabled and are new for the HD versions of the game developed by War Drum Studios. These cheats have been marked accordingly.

For other ports, it is not necessarily known if these work and for others it would be impossible to activate them without modifying the game, so be warned if you choose to experiment.

Plain Text Cheat Codes MAC PC

Note that many of these cheats have equivalents in the "random text cheat code" list further down the page (though each set has a few that is unique to it). The plain text cheats are simply easier to remember most of the time, and most of the random text cheats are simply shorter.

Glitches

Accessing Area 69 Underground

It's possible to access the underground section of Area 69 via a glitch. Obtain a Freeway bike and ride into Area 69. This will automatically trigger a 5 star wanted level. Go to the vent that CJ uses for entry in the Black Project mission. Park the Freeway right next to the northern side of the vent, with the Freeway facing southwest. When CJ dismounts, he'll step on the vent and be transported underground. To exit the underground section, you have to shoot the vent grate, go to the entry point, and press the button normally used for accessing a car. CJ will mount the Freeway above ground again.

Barbara Glitch

If you go pick up Barbara for a date, she might say that you aren't fat enough to take her out. Instead of having to gain weight to be able to take her out, you can grab a car and a fellow gang member. To do this you have to have a Sadler and a Grove St. gang member in the car with you. When you do this, you go pick up Barbara for a date and she assumes you're heavy since the Sadler itself is heavy along with the gang member. You HAVE TO have the gang member with you, or else it will not work.

Early and riskfree exploration PC

During the mission "Reuniting the Families", you have to shoot down a group of SWAT team and then enter the motel to save Sweet. Beating the SWAT, instead of getting into the motel, you can travel all around the entire map and enter all the restricted areas like the military base and the maps that are locked. You will have no wanted level and no cops will chase you. You can explore the entire map freely without taking risk. This is the best time to confirm vehicle and item locations and to collect the snapshots, oysters and horseshoes.

Easy cycling skill

This glitch allows you to upgrade you cycling skill faster. To exploit this glitch you first need to find a bike (no brainer), then you need to find a freight train and wait for it to stop. Do a bunny hop onto the back of the freight train so that you can ride it and stay on the bike. When the train starts to move again the bike will start to slide. At this point press the X button to pedal the bike. The bike should now be floating slightly above the train but will remain in place. You will notice that the wheels of the bike are moving at the some speed as the train even if you let go of the X button. This allows you to get cycling skills faster than with normal bike riding.

Note: CJ and the bike may become invisible while on the train. This is normal and will become visable again once you get off the train.

Free paint jobs at Loco Low co. and Wheel Arch Angels

Tired of having the garages take away your beloved paint jobs on your cars? Don't want to spend $500 on a pretty flame paint job? Take your vehicle of choice to the Mod Shops across the state. When you are in the shop, highlight your painting of choice. Now press X and then Triangle VERY Quickly. Your car should have the paint job and you don't have to pay the money. However, this doesn't work with anything else. (colors, spoilers etc.) Also note that this will not fix up your car, and it will still be beat up.

Ghost Country

This glitch removes all peds (and cops if it's done right) and cars from the game. It's great to use to explore the territory. On the mission 'Small town bank' for Catalina, after you grab the bikes, you'll end up at the unique jump spot. Jump it, but miss and fall into the river below (It works if you don't get the slow animation for the jump too, but if you do get it, the cops shouldn't be on the map as well as the peds). After you land in the water, you'll see a floating trooper dead. I don't know why that's there. Swim to Fisher's lagoon and head back to Palomino Creek, were the bank is. Nothing will be there. No cars driving or spawned, and maybe no cops. The alarm at the bank will still be going off, and the only places you will find anyone will be in a store like The Well Stacked Pizza or Ammu-Nation. Entering then exiting those places will not bring back the peds or cars, and the only way to do that is to go and rescue Catalina from the police ambush and take her back to her hideout. However, you can do anything in between the glitch and rescuing her, as she will not be killed by the cops. Just spawn a jetpack or car with a cheat and explore. You can go cover tags and find the oysters and stuff like that without worry that cops or gangs will attack you. Occasionally a parked car will spawn, but they are kinda rare. When you go to rescue Catalina, shoot the surrounding cops with a rifle from far away, and you can pick them off easy, and no other ones will come. I don't know what happens if you die or kill Catalina, so you can try it if you like and tell me about it and I'll correct this.

Mountain Bike Morphing

This glitch is similar to the bike morph glitch in vice city, but it has a limited area that you can use it. In this area you can not fall off the bike, so you can do flips and all other kind of insane stunts. To do this glitch you need:

- 1: Go to the top of Mount Chiliad
- 2: Get a Parachute (there's one by the Journey on top of the Mountain)
- 3: Get on the mountain bike parked at the top of the mountain to start the mission "The Chiliad Challenge"
- 4: Use the ramp to the left of the beginning of the mission to fly of the mountain. Jump off in midair and open the parachute.

If done correctly you should now be morphed with the bike (parachute still open) Now you can do insane stunts without falling of your bike.

Civilian Lemmings

Go to the gym in Las Venturas, and through the bomb garage next to it. Stand in that alley and look at the building across the street to your right -- and you'll see people jumping and walking off the roof. It will only happen if you stand in that alley and watch it from there. It's pretty much a Lemmings Easter Egg since Rockstar North made Lemmings (the company was known as DMA then)

The next time you're in the underground section of Area 69, take the time to peek through the windows of the inaccessible lab rooms. One of them contains a table with a unique item on top of it: a red crowbar. It's a nod to Gordon Freeman's Crowbar, the most iconic weapon in Half-Life. Chilliad Challenge easy win alternative way

Another way to easily complete every race in the Chilliad Challenge is quite simple, throw a grenade at your opponent(s) and they will be eliminated from the race. Normally, using a weapon will get you disqualified, but using a grenade is fine by the games standards, and this method is a lot less cheap than the other one for this challenge, and works just as effectively.

Here is how to get a few grand at a time on Mt.Chiliad. Ok, get to the top of Mt.Chiliad and hop on the bike they place up there. Depending on the time, a race might start. If it doesn't just wait around up there until it does. When the race down the mountain begins, look to your left and there should be a flagpole with a ramp next to it. Forget the race and go off the ramp doing flips and spins. You will get teleported back on the mountain but with an insane stunt bonus of a couple hundred dollars! Repeat this process until the race ends. Then wait around for the next race to begin!

Get to 3-4 stars and go into A Cluckin' Bell. (I used the one across from the Paint n Spray in Los Santos.) Go into the room with two doors. Sit in there for a second after the doors are shut and go back outside to the lobby. There's new people in there. If you have 3-4 stars, Policement will appear, but they don't attack. Kill them for pistols and easy weapon skill.

Edit the stats of any vehicle in game. PC

First browse to your GTA:SA isntall directory, it will look something like this:

C:\Program Files\Rockstar Games\GTA San Andreas\

Then go to the data directory. MAKE A BACKUP OF ANY FILES BEFORE YOU EDIT THEM. To edit the vehicle stats, open the handling.cfg file in notepad. As you can see, all the info on every vehicle in in there. Follow the instructions in the comments to find out how to edit it.

You can do anything like make a Rhino as light as a PCJ600 and control just as well.

Basically, you can edit anything in the game from these files. Just be careful what you edit and leave them as sane values to prevent glitches.

Get Twice the Amount of Progress With Girlfriends

You have to have two controllers for this trick. When you go to your girlfriend's house you have a choice of either going on a two player free roam or going on a one player date. However, at the end of the one player date the two player icon (usually located by the door) will linger for a few seconds. You have to quickly go into the icon and activate it before it disappears. After that you can either end the free roam quickly or play around it doesn't matter. If your one player date was good and you gained progress you will gain even more progress from the free roam. However, if you had a bad date you lose more progress by activating it.

Save two cars in your garage PC

This works in the same way as the previous games. Normally you can only save one car in your garage, but with this you can save two or more! All you have to do is get your two or however many cars and bring them up to your garage. Drive one of them until the garage door opens, and then drive it half way in and get out of the car. This will keep the door open for you. Next, get into the other car and drive that all the way into the garage. Then get into the car half way in and drive it the rest of the way in and get out and leave the garage. Et viola! You now have two cars stored in your garage!

Use the Vortex as a Submarine

Use the Vortex between El Quebrados and the abandoned airfield to take the small unique jump ramp that's on the back of the small shack it's parked next to. When you land in the water, the unique jump slow-motion cinema should keep going, with the camera fixed in one spot. Drive way out into the reservoir, and towards the dam, to the left of the camera's view. You'll disappear from view, but keep going. Eventually you'll run into the side of the dam and the cinema will end, leaving you under water and able to steer the Vortex like a submarine, without draining lung capacity or anything, as if you weren't underwater at all.

Easter Eggs

Gant Bridge Facts PS4

The next time you're near Gant Bridge, head to the nearby visitor's center. You'll find a sign titled Bridge Facts. This lists the in-game technical data of Gant Bridge, such as its length, height, number of polygons, the number of dev team babies born during its construction, textures, and the amount of disk space it takes up. While a similar easter egg existed in the original, the stats for this sign were all updated to reflect the data of the Definitive Edition.
